BROM NEW YORK.

Whe Pittston Calamity. NEW YORK, May 29 .- A despatch to Blake, Mason & Co. says the coal mine accident was caused by the friction of the machinery. Brown, superintendent of the colliery, was in this city at the time of the accident, and left last evening for home. The loss of property and business will be large in addition to the loss of life.

The Evening Post says:-"The families of the men lost by this calamity will be cared for by the yublic with the same large charity extended to the sufferers by the Avondale fire. This community in particular, in whose service the fatal mine was worked, will be prompt and liberal in supplying their wants.

A meeting will be held at the Academy of Music in a few days, at which all the facts of the calamity will be considered and appeals made in behalf of the families it has deprived of support. Bat if the West Pittston Coal Company be justly accused of having illegally exposed its men to death, the whole burden of the future support of their families ought to fall upon it, though it should require the confiscation of its entire pro-

Whit-Monday in New York. The various German organizations in this city are celebrating Whit-Monday by picnics. excursions, and social festivities. Nearly 5000 Tentons went to Staten Island this morning, and numbers equally great to different parks and places of resort in the vicinity of New York.

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., May 29 .- The down noon express train on the New Haven Railroad to-day struck a wagon containing John Miller, grocery merchant, who had a leg and arm broken, and was otherwise injured. There is reason to hope his injuries will not prove fatal. A young man, named Hirman, was slightly injured. The horse was killed.

ALBANY, May 29 .- The German peace jubilee was the most imposing demonstration ever witnessed in this city. The procession was nearly two hours in passing a given point. The exerclses consisted of addresses in German and English and music this afternoon.

FROM THE WEST.

Railway Opening. Sr. Louis, May 29 .- A large party of citizens went to St. Charles this morning to celebrate the completion and opening of the new railroad bridge across the Missouri river. The bridge will be immediately used by the North Missouri

Presbyterian Assembly.

CHICAGO, May 29 .- In the Presbyterian Assembly to-day the report of the Judicial Committee was presented, and recommended, in reference to the complaint of certain members of the Session Church of Eaton, Ohio, against the Cincinnati Synod, that the complainant have leave to withdraw the complaint without preludice, and be advised to present the same to that Synod.

The report also recommended that the complaint of Christian Kern and others be again referred to the New Orleans Presbytery, with the injunction that complainants be allowed a hearing. The report was adopted.

Rev. Dr. Backus, from the committee of twenty-one, spoke explanatory, vindicating the plan of the committee.

Messrs. Gibson and Booth, of New York, made addresses in favor of adopting the re-Rev. Dr. Musgrave made an elaborate and lengthy speech strongly urging the prompt and decisive rejection of the whole scheme. He thought it lacked simplicity and economy and would prove a fallure as regards effective-ness and collection of funds. He predicted, if adopted, a monopoly would be erected with vast power of patronage, and would become grasping, selfish, and arbitrary, corrupting, ultimately, and controlling the Assembly itself. He implored the House to kill the measure as a plan hurtful to the interests of Christ's king-The present Church machinery was abundantly operative under it. Its growth has been relatively greater than the Methodists or the growth of the population of the country. It had collected ten millions of dollars last year. We wanted nothing better. Pending the consideration of the report, the Assembly adjourned till 2 30 P. M.

FROM WASHINGTON.

He is able to sit up quite a while at a time, and now only needs strength, which he is recovering, though slowly.

AN UPRIGHT JUDGE.

An Excellent Finale to a Prize Fight-Collins and Edwards Sent to the Penitentiary. The prize fighters, Collins and Edwards, were taken for trial before Judge Dowling, in the Court of Special Sessions, New York, on Satur-day. At the conclusion of the argument for the prisoners, Judge Dowling gave the following

You have been tried here for a violation of that law known to the people of New York as a law to prevent and punish prize-fighting, and the evidence produced against you is, in the mind of the Court, concusive of your guilt. Such practices as that you are charged as having engaged in are calculated to foster a spirit of idleness and vagabondism among young men, and prevent them from working to earn an honest living. It must be stopped. That you are residents of New York is beyond all doubt, and you are therefore within the jurisdiction of this court You left this city secretly, went into an adjoining county, and there engaged in a prize fight, all the preliminaries of which—seconds, umpires, bottle-holders, spongers, and so on—were arranged before you left. You have been identified, and there is conclusive evidence that you are the men who fought; indeed, your battered and bruised appearance here is proof enough to my mind. You returned here to your homes and were arrested by the police. The majesty of the law must be sustained. The people of the city of New York are your accusers. They say of the city of New York are your accusers. They say to you through me, "This prize-fighting must stop; it must end right here." And it will. I cannot adopt the suggestion made by your counsel to admit you to bail to keep the peace, for the patent reason that there is no peace in you as long as you are at liberty. Prize-fighting is bred in your bones. You say it was your trade in England, and that there you followed it as a livelihood. You cannot do so here. This country receives and protects you so long as you behave yourselves, but here you cannot outrage the laws. And neither can you return to England, for the cities there have passed a law called the Habitual Criminals' act for the arrest of known Habitual Criminals' act for the arrest of known thieves, vagabonds, and prize-fighters, and their confinement in prison. No sooner was this law passed than you men came here. The consequences were apparent. On the street corners little boys discussed the points of Edwards and Collins. and Coburn and that other man. It is absolutely disgusting. You men. however, showed some spirit. You actually fought, while Coburn, that huge loafer who challenged any man in the world to fight him, could not be made to fight any man. Mr. Superintendent (to Superintendent man. Mr. Superintendent (to Superintendent Kelso) I want you to bring me these heavy weights. This brutal exhibition must be suppressed, and in order to make an example of you men the Court will give you such a blow as will knock you out of time. (Laughter.) The sentence of the Court is that you Edwards and you Collins be imprisoned in the Penitentiary for the term of one year each, and pay a fine of $1000 each, and stand committed until wich fines are paid.

Thomas McAipine, who acted as umpire for Colline, was fined $500 and sentenced to six months
